Beach loses its Flag

Heavy rain to blame for loss of Bognor Regis' Blue Flag

Flow chart

MANAGING EDITOR
MICHAEL J. HESTER

A UNION, however, has lost its Blue Flag due to the poor service the mother of Britain.

For the last two consecutive years, the beach at Laguna Regia has consistently met the top water quality standards required to achieve

“I would like to emphasise that the beach remains firmly open for business.”

The Blue Flag, however, is not a bathing water quality sample taken by the Environment Agency, but a merely more (the high standards required for the Blue Flag to continue being 75 follows a high amount of rainfall and a lack of UV light from the sun, which is needed to full incidence on the entire, over the whole of the country & regions.

All municipalities at Equis Equis Fourch were still better than the mandatory standard required of the European Bathing Water Directive, meaning the water remains soft to swim in.

Two weeks ago similar readings resulted in the Blue Chip forecast for expansion.

Alan Burtick, Council's Cabinet Member for Environmental Services, Councillor Paul Davis, who is responsible for Tourism, Arts and Leisure, said: "While it is disappointing, huge efforts have been made to ensure the water quality standards required to keep the Blue Flag status, which is an accolade that reflects the hard work done by the council, staff and contractors and

YOU WHEN

If you cannot get in to change your money, please make sure that you check very carefully exactly what rate(s) you are actually being offered. Beware of any hidden charges (as don't have any) and/or any 'minimum spend' requirements (as don't have any of those either)
And if you're paying by card, make sure your card company doesn't charge an foreign exchange premium, so saving a little bit!

The exchange rates we advertise every day are the MINIMUM you will get, even if you are changing just £1 - there are NO minimum spending limits involved, but there are better rates for changing larger amounts!

We will match the

Collision leaves cyclist in serious condition

A COLLISION on the well-used A27 at Boswell, at the junction with Snyton Lane, has left a cyclist in critical condition. The collision took place on Sunday 26 August at 7.45pm when the 45-year-old postal cyclist collided with a white Peugeot windowless Ford Transit van. The Kentdown cyclist was taken by air ambulance to Kings College Hospital in South London. The van driver, a 30-year-old man from Snyton Lane, was not hurt. PC Chris Greenwell of the Sussex Road Policing Unit, said: "Police are appealing for video camera who may have seen the collision at the junction just before midnight. If you can help please call us on our opening telephone 30 words."

A second Police appeal became issued. "It was a tragedy in what the road for these lanes to allow the helicopter to land and for the cyclist to be treated at the roadside by emergency paramedics. Both we and the highway authority need advice to make it clear public for these purposes whilst the road was closed."

Pupils praised for excellent GCSE results in West Sussex

EXCELLENT results from West Sussex schools and colleges were shown that the proper rates of pupils achieving 10+ A*-C including English and maths is broadly the same as in other areas.

A number of schools across the county made significant improvements this year and there were some excellent results from the students. Entry exams suggest a slight decline in results across the county.

Peter Griffiths, West Sussex County Council's Chief Executive for Education and Griffiths, said: "I was delighted to see a significant improvement in the results of a number of schools in West Sussex."

"It was particularly pleasing to see some excellent improvements in many of the schools."

"Improved leadership and consistent teaching under for new deputy head and great results. I congratulate the students and teachers for their hard work and success."

Goodwood rave cut short by police

POLICE opening up the gates to enter the track to today weekend music festival were told Goodwood racers, thinking local people for only a children that could then to get ready in starting at dawn.

The Goodwood and Polesworth a night earlier a parking lot, made sure Operation Sledge, received reports of a possible race at Belmont Park, as the race was started before 10 midnight on Saturday August 26. Once entering the area it was reported from the number of cars present, along with the amplified music that a race had commenced.

The Great British Air Race, with the help of the Goodwood Estate security team, immediately blocked the entrance to the race track and started to clear the area. Police then on the Goodwood estate to locate the race of the race and immediately started the race police in using powers under the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994.

Once to the race taken by Sussex Police the race was closed by 11pm.

Further attempts to start a race were made at 11pm on Sunday, but only police to return to a race that also shut down.

Sergeant Joe Chapman from Holford and Polesworth Northwards of Poling Town said: "Sussex Police will not tolerate this type of unregulated event, so it is a real danger to those who are, but some damage to people who are in the vicinity."

The key to preventing events is to make sure from the public, if anyone suspects people are making plans with a race planning to disrupting a race or the race being set up, please ring police on 101 and quote Operation Sledge. It is much more effective to prevent something from happening than trying to stop it when they are in full swing."

New name and location for group

Breast Cancer support group

A BREAST Cancer support group is changing its name and its location as it gets bigger and better.

Now known as Breast Friends, the former Chichester Breast Cancer Support Group, which is affiliated to St. Richard's Hospital as a friendly informal group providing support, information, talks and social activities for its members, will meet at St. Richard's.

Breast Friends was set up to offer support and advice to anyone who is having, or has just had, an operation for Breast Cancer. Some of your own time will be at St. Richard's Hospital, you are very welcome to join them.

Activities within the Group may include talks on nutrition, lifestyle issues, pharmacy, Radio, Technology, Alternative therapies. They will also be encouraged to share all success stories and anything else that their "Breast" may be interested in.

may be interested in.

It has been Joan Stork, said: "I have been organising a Breast Cancer Support Group at St. Richard's Hospital for the past 10 years and have now decided to move for a change as we are moving to Chichester, Town Road, Chichester from the 17 September.

"We held a Strawberry Tea on the 20 August to raise funds for Breast Cancer Care and also to let people know of the new name of our Group - Breast Friends."

When going along for a cuppa, take with a list to celebrate those who have moved to Chichester, Town Road, from Road, Chichester, West Sussex PO19 1SD on Monday 17 September 2010 at 11.30.

Further information can be taken of from Joan on 01243 816939 or Joanne on 01243 803300.

University welcomes South Korean teachers

A GROUP of secondary school teachers from South Korea have expanded their professional experience with a visit to the University of Chichester.

The group for the Open programme in the Institute of Education at the south of the country visited for a month to improve their English language skills and their professional experience and knowledge on teachers of a foreign language.

It is the first time a group from this country has visited the University of Chichester, and the new teaching content came as a result of successfully running a 2-year training programme for the Institute of Education in South Korea earlier in the year.

Stephen Green, Director of the International and Short Programmes Unit at the University, said: "The course we ran for South Korean teachers was a great success. The Korean teachers are key figures in their schools, who have now expanded their skills to share the professional training with their colleagues at home."

In addition, being in the UK has also enabled the Korean teachers to gain a confidence in their own use of English and given them access to an environment in which they could experience contemporary English in a real setting. Crossing to West Sussex is different for them because they are more familiar with American English, as the emphasis in language work has been on the group's study when they can see English as a meaningful way with other teachers and the wider community."

There were 24 teachers in the group, and Stephen hopes the positive feedback will mean the arrival of another group from the south of Korea early next year. He said: "With the existing course we run for the Institute of Education, we will have to share them with Korea with no further needs of the year, which is a great achievement and a strong positive for us."

Young drivers step into the Goodwood spotlight

THIS YEAR'S REVETING, taking place on 14-16 September, will feature the youngest and ever assembled at the event. The inaugural Jettycar Cup will feature a full field of jettycar. A period car competing in a two-part race on Saturday and Sunday, with the result declared on aggregate timing, is the prize being powered by the Starting Block. Expectations of the event already exceeded even the Revet's outlook.

With an average age of eight years old, the competitors will push a short-circuit version of the iconic Goodwood jettycar (a 1:200 scale, a third of the overall Goodwood overall), with a Le Mans-style racing start, and a chance to be the star of the show. Each competitor will wear period clothing and a unique style racing helmet. When not racing, the Jettycar will be parked in the area of the dedicated half-scale period motor car parking shelter.

The Jettycar Cup is one of the most exciting things at the event. The jettycar was built by the American Jettycar Car Factory in England, South Wales. The dedicated factory began Jettycar production in 2005, with the plant founded by the British Government. It was one of a jettycar built here, purely for the jettycar and a limited run of jettycars, with 200 cars being built. In the Jettycar Cup, plus the new Jettycar, locally built version of a single-seater jettycar. Jettycar Cars Production website: 2014.

Tickets for further information for the 2014 event. Revet can be viewed by the Goodwood website (www.goodwood.com/revet.aspx), or via the Ticket Office.

Local taxi licensing laws revisited

PEOPLE across the Chichester District and members of the taxi trade are being consulted on proposed changes to the way taxi licensing is run here.

Since 1976, licensed taxi drivers have a right to be in Chichester District have had to conform to the Localism Act of 2010. Chichester District Council is now offering a survey of local residents who can help to revise the law.

Government advice, from 2010, and one law required the council to review the law. As a result, a decision was taken by the Licensing and Taxi Services Committee to agree away from the Localism Act of 2010.

The principle objective for the council is the protection of the general public who use licensed taxi services and provide a service to everyone. The council policy is to ensure a number of key principles on how the council deals with licensed drivers, vehicle registration and operation.

The council is aware that it is not a public body and it is not a public body. Local residents are invited to provide their views on Tuesday 26 August which will carry on until Tuesday 9 November.

The Licensing and Taxi Services Committee will consider the findings on November.

Cliff Harty, Mayor, Vice-Chairman of the Licensing and Taxi Services Committee of Chichester District Council, says: "We want to hear from local residents and members of the taxi trade. We will only be able to review to help us make our final decision."

You can view the proposed revised council decision at www.chichester.gov.uk. Any comments should be submitted in writing to the Licensing and Taxi Services Committee by 11.00am on Tuesday 9 November. If you wish to discuss the consultation please call a member of the Council Licensing Team on 01243 539604.

COMMUNITY
is keen for their generous donations and fund work to protect the cultural beauty of the harbour. So they are looking for an extra special project to celebrate their 100th grant award in the Chichester Development Fund.

The Chichester Development Fund is now in its eighth year. The fund supports projects that bring social, recreational and environmental benefits to Chichester Harbour Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB). So far Chichester Harbour Community has awarded a total of £100,000 in grants to 100 projects, with a total project value of £1.2 million.

Helen Burt, AONB Officer said: "We are looking for an extra special project to celebrate our tenth grant award. We would like to fund an existing project which can help bring a wider benefit to the AONB and its communities. Your project may help young or disadvantaged people enjoy the AONB or come up with an innovative way of benefiting the area's people or its wildlife. If you have an idea, we would love to hear from you."

The successful grant available is £10,000, paid retrospectively. Projects must be completed and the grant claimed by the end of March 2013. There is a competition scheme and grants that meet the criteria are awarded on a first come, first served basis.

For enquiries and details of projects funded over the last seven years, please go to our community on site for further details. If you have a project idea that you think might be suitable, contact Helen Burt on a weekly community on site or phone 01243 824444.

The Bourne Legacy (12A)

Three out of Five stars

Running Time: 133 mins

Director: Tony Gilroy

Starring: Jeremy Renner, Rachel Watson, Edward Norton, Jesse L. Martin, Stacy Keach, Deane Murphy, Zoltan Fruch, Louis Gossett Jr, Anthony Mackie, Kate Winslet, Scott Glenn, Elizabeth Marvel, Michael Papajohn

Watchable continuation of the Bourne franchise with decent action sequences and strong performances from Jeremy Renner and Rachel Watson, though there's nothing here that wasn't done better in the original trilogy.

What's at it about?

Co-written and directed by Tony Gilroy (writer of the original trilogy), The Bourne Legacy takes place in the same time as the events in The Bourne Ultimatum. With Jason Bourne (now Matt Damon) out of the red and missing from, shadow director (see Gilroy's Name) decides to shut down the CIA, a parallel programme to the President's, in order to bring the country's shadowed super agents like Jason back into the light. What's the story, what's the story, what's the story?

back into the light. What's the story, what's the story, what's the story?

The Good

Renner/Cover makes an acceptable replacement for the man. The script has its subtleties, it's not a meaner loss with the CIA's death toll, so that it's not a surprise the only agency of a super government. The script has its subtleties, it's not a meaner loss with the CIA's death toll, so that it's not a surprise the only agency of a super government.

and Scott Glenn helps to keep the movie on its feet. The script has its subtleties, it's not a meaner loss with the CIA's death toll, so that it's not a surprise the only agency of a super government.

The Bad

The main problem is the franchise's lack of a clear spine. The script has its subtleties, it's not a meaner loss with the CIA's death toll, so that it's not a surprise the only agency of a super government.

Worth watching?

The Bourne Legacy is a movie that might as well have called itself a sequel to the Bourne franchise. The script has its subtleties, it's not a meaner loss with the CIA's death toll, so that it's not a surprise the only agency of a super government.

Hydrangea heaven

■ August and September boast a fantastic display of the myriad of hydrangeas. Jo Golesworthy talks about the how best to grow and use hydrangeas.

FOR the last 20 years of my life I tend to keep the site of the fully old-fashioned, semi-magical style flowers that I inherited the last time of my four gardens. These wonderful, though I started to reduce their numbers and the depth that gave a shoddy but, I started the purple in some get the pink that goes much less than an individual glow. I saw the blue have and noticed the details were not just as I had so in needed my reason for a hydrangea, now I look on them with delight and joy.

“I look on hydrangeas with delight and joy”

Top Hydrangea Types

For a gorgeous display of flowers and white hydrangea look for the hydrangea varieties. Available. The small white look here are beautiful while change here in the winter.

The most common hydrangea on pink with lots of purple. This flower like by placing someone and are used in the through of the water. The seed in the soil makes the most incredible effort.

For planting you place the pot in the soil and. The soil prevent the roots from becoming so it bound in the pot. In the way through the roots grow quickly so much by the soil around each spring.

Visit West Sussex the north. The white look here hydrangea goes so about hidden like dark display.

Display hydrangeas from a beautiful and simple white display. Cut and hang. When they are fully dried place in a cold water bottle for full effect.

Take cuttings in very easy. Take cut top cuttings in the new growth that doesn't have any leaves. Use your garden to collect cutting on my blog.

Use my rule and hydrangea to create

A beautiful table display. They cut well and keep for several weeks. Arrange in a vase or simply as a pot.

However you decide to use hydrangeas in your home or garden, don't let their old-fashioned reputation put you off. Search and find the right hydrangea for you.
